

The CHOOSING of DRESS MATERIALS for SUMMER WEAR is NOT the DIFFICULT MATTER.

NOT FASHIONABLE WEAVES IN THE MOST FAVORED SHADES ARE THERE IN ABUNDANCE,
AND THE DESIGNING TALENTS OF THE COUNTRY WILL WELL HAVE BEEN TESTED.
IN MANY INSTANCES THEY WERE PURCHASED
BEFORE THE SEVERAL RECENT INCREASES IN COST OF THE RAW MATERIALS. BUT TO THE
BUYER, WHO CAN ACQUIRE DRESS MATERIALS
AT THE PRESENT LOW PRICES, THE COSTS ARE BELOW PRESENT HOME COSTS. THIS IS THERE-FORE, AN OPPORTUNITY WHICH SHOULD NOT BE PASSED BY. FASHIONABLE WITHOUT IN-CURRING A HEAVY EXPENSE SHOULD AVOID
THE PURCHASE OF DRESS MATERIALS. THIS WILL DEMONSTRATE THAT VALUE IS OFFERED IN THE PURCHASE OF DRESS MATERIALS.

PRESIDENT'S 14 POINTS ARE THEY SUFFICIENT?

BRITISH MINISTERS CONFER

LONDON, Oct. 13. The British Government has received the German reply. Its ambiguity will probably necessitate extensive consultations between the Allies.

The German reply reached the British Government through the British Minister at the Hague. Mr. Balfour and Mr. Bonar Law left London to confer with Mr. Lloyd George, who was spending the week-end in the country.

It is not anticipated that negotiations will be speedily concluded, as many conferences between the Allies will be necessary.

It is considered in English diplomatic circles that the Allies are entitled to demand an unconditional surrender, and that Germany should give guarantees before being granted an armistice.

Official circles in Washington warn the public against believing that Germany is about to surrender unconditionally.

The Washington correspondent of the "New York Times" says the German proposal for an armistice will not be accepted.

ALLIED VIEWS ON PEACE TERMS.

LONDON, Oct. 13. English diplomatic circles consider that Germany's reply constitutes a candid admission of defeat, and entitles the Allies to demand a full and unconditional surrender. The public at the clubs and elsewhere viewed the reply calmly. Confidence was generally expressed in the capacity of the Allies to take the fullest advantage of the opportunity and to secure the ends for which the armies and fleets have so long battled.

The Earl of "Sinh" in a speech in London, said that the German reply was a candid admission of defeat. He said that the German reply was a candid admission of defeat. He said that the German reply was a candid admission of defeat.

Probably before an armistice is granted the Allies will compel Germany to give guarantees. The terms of the armistice must be tantamount to an unconditional surrender.

GERMAN NOTE NOT FRANK ENOUGH.

Washington correspondents state that after a canvass of official circles it can be ascertained that the reply is not regarded as a frank, straightforward admission of defeat.

Some Washington authorities say that exception will be taken to the proposal for a mixed commission, and also consider the statement that the Chancellor is speaking for the German people lacking in definiteness and sincerity.

Senator Hitchcock, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, interviewed, said: "The 'Reichs' communique says: 'The Imperial German Government has returned the dreaded answer, accepting or pretending to accept wholly the President's conditions. Why should we not offer to surrender? Why should we not offer to surrender?'"

Some Washington authorities say that exception will be taken to the proposal for a mixed commission, and also consider the statement that the Chancellor is speaking for the German people lacking in definiteness and sincerity.

Colonel Roosevelt, commenting on the German Note, said: "Germany ought to be made to realize that the United States is in the war to the finish, and will accept nothing but a peace of overwhelming victory. Let us leave the fate of the world to the hands of the victors."

MIXED FEELINGS IN GERMANY.

A Copenhagen report states that when the great factories in Berlin started saluting warships on Saturday thousands of men and women gathered to the centre of the city and waited hours for the reply to President Wilson's message, published in special editions of the newspapers, issued at 10 o'clock.

It is reported that the pan-Germans are preparing a counter-move. A great number of officers are arriving in Berlin. "Vorwaerts" warns the pan-Germans not to do anything to cause the people to lose patience with them, adding that every conspiracy will be crushed with a firm hand. Independent socialist newspapers have been confiscated for demanding a republic.

Many Germans urge the Government not to evacuate the occupied territories, were under definite conditions, keeping the Allied army at a distance from industrial districts. Austrian circles are settling in favour of Entente troops remaining stationary, whereas evacuation is arranged, and the sending of troops to the front.

LOST TRANSPORT.

Despite the suddenness of the collision which resulted in the loss of the transport Otranto, and the terrific weather, there was little confusion aboard the ship. The crew remained calm, and the most difficult. The occupants of many lifeboats were dashed against the side of the vessel, and drowned. The exact number of those aboard the Kaituma has not been reported. The Otranto is believed to have been beached. It is possible that many of the crew were picked up by the patrol boats.

Following the collision, the soldiers stood stiffly at attention on the decks at the command of the officers. The seas broke over the steamed vessel, which had heavily listed. The steamed stood at their respective posts, awaiting final orders, while others attended to the wounded.

TWO MORE YEARS.

SIR ERIC GEDDES ON WAR PROSPECTS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13. Sir Eric Geddes (First Lord of the British Admiralty), interviewed at Washington, said: "I lay great stress on Germany's impudence in the face of the evidence of the Allies. We should not be lulled by hopes of an early peace, but should prepare for two more years of war."

ALLIES TAKE NISH.

CAMPAIGN YIELDS 90,000 PRISONERS.

LONDON, Oct. 13. A French eastern communiqué issued Sunday morning stated: "There was violent fighting in the 10th last night of Nish, between the Serbian and the enemy, reinforced by the new German division. Counter-attacks by the Serbian army, supported by the tanks of the Morava, were shattered, with heavy losses. East of the Morava the Serbians continued to advance on the hills south of Nish. The Serbians captured 90,000 prisoners, 2,000 guns, hundreds of machine-guns and mine throwers, and immense booty."

A later French communiqué stated: "The Serbians on Saturday morning occupied Nish, which the enemy had been ordered to defend at all costs. The Serbians gained a foothold on the hills north of the town. Severe fighting preceded the capture of Nish, which the Serbians captured after a hard fight."

The French in Upper Serbia occupied Prijedor, and Mitrovica.

A Paris message says that the Serbian Government has fled to Belgrade for safety.

A Serbian official report states: "We occupied, after hard fighting, the whole of Belgrade, and reached Gornja. Our cavalry is advancing towards Kopaonik and Zlatibor. We took many prisoners, including three German divisions, and captured six guns."

ENEMY REPORT.

A German official report states: "In the face of strong attacks, we retired to heights north of Nish. Nish was occupied by the enemy."

AMERICAN OFFICIAL NEWS.

The following official wireless news has been received at Sydney by the American Consul General:

Lieut. Colonel Sijka Tanikawa, Military Attaché to the Japanese Embassy, died of pneumonia at the Japanese Embassy in London. A Russian official report states: "The arrival at Archangel of a relief ship from an American port with 4000 tons of food and drug supplies for the Northern Russia, valued at $200,000, which was originally appropriated by the Red Cross for the Russian front."

A Paris message says that the German reply constitutes a candid admission of defeat. He said that the German reply was a candid admission of defeat. He said that the German reply was a candid admission of defeat.

PALESTINE.

PEOPLE WELCOME BRITISH TROOPS.

FROM W. T. MASSEY, SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT FOR THE AUSTRALIAN PRESS ASSOCIATION IN PALESTINE.

BEYROUT, Oct. 9. Of all the areas of war I've witnessed nothing impressed me more than the extraordinary welcome which the British troops received when they landed at Haifa. The British troops were welcomed by the people of Haifa, and the British troops were welcomed by the people of Haifa.

The British troops were welcomed by the people of Haifa, and the British troops were welcomed by the people of Haifa. The British troops were welcomed by the people of Haifa, and the British troops were welcomed by the people of Haifa.

GENERAL CABLE NEWS.

The Paris "Temps" states that Spain has decided to enter the war. The German Government has offered to give Spain Spanish territory as compensation for Spanish ships sunk by German submarines.

Lord Pinlay, Lord Reading, Lord Mersey, and Lord Palmerston (Lord Justices of the Appeal) and other distinguished judges, lawyers, and members of the Middle and Inner Temple attended a memorial service in the Temple Church for the fallen soldiers of the British Empire.

MAN WITH REVOLVER.

The Munich "Neueste Nachrichten" says official circles in Berlin expect the immediate dissolution of the Austro-Hungarian dual monarchy, and the proclamation of the independence of the Czechs and Slovaks.

The "Politik" says: "I believe the note sufficiently definite to require the President to consult the Allies regarding the next step Germany must pay indemnities for all damage done on land and by the murderous U-boat warfare."

It is reported that the pan-Germans are preparing a counter-move. A great number of officers are arriving in Berlin. "Vorwaerts" warns the pan-Germans not to do anything to cause the people to lose patience with them, adding that every conspiracy will be crushed with a firm hand.

THE ARMISTICE.

ALLIES GUIDED BY FIELD COMMANDERS.

It is understood regarding an armistice that the Allied Governments will be guided entirely by the field commanders in the field.

Newspapers and public men have been heard to say that the Allies will not undertake unilaterally the same responsibilities, thus keeping open sea communication, and reducing the enemy's fleet to impotence, and driving enemy commerce from the seas.
